DIRECTOR'S WORDS

After a career of more than fifty productions, we felt more than ever the need to close a phase and search for new forms, manners, impulses, seeing to it that LOW-COST is not just another production.

By this personal and professional point, after twenty years of steady work, it wouldn't hurt to reconsider and go through what happened in all this time.

For better or for worse, we achieved a career of twenty years, with a project that started in complete solitude, by means of sheer force, energy and perseverance. "If you fall six times, get up seven" was just one of the assumptions. Now, with twenty years of experience, it's a duty and a need to make a revision of our path in all its stages.

Why LOW-COST (por bailar)?

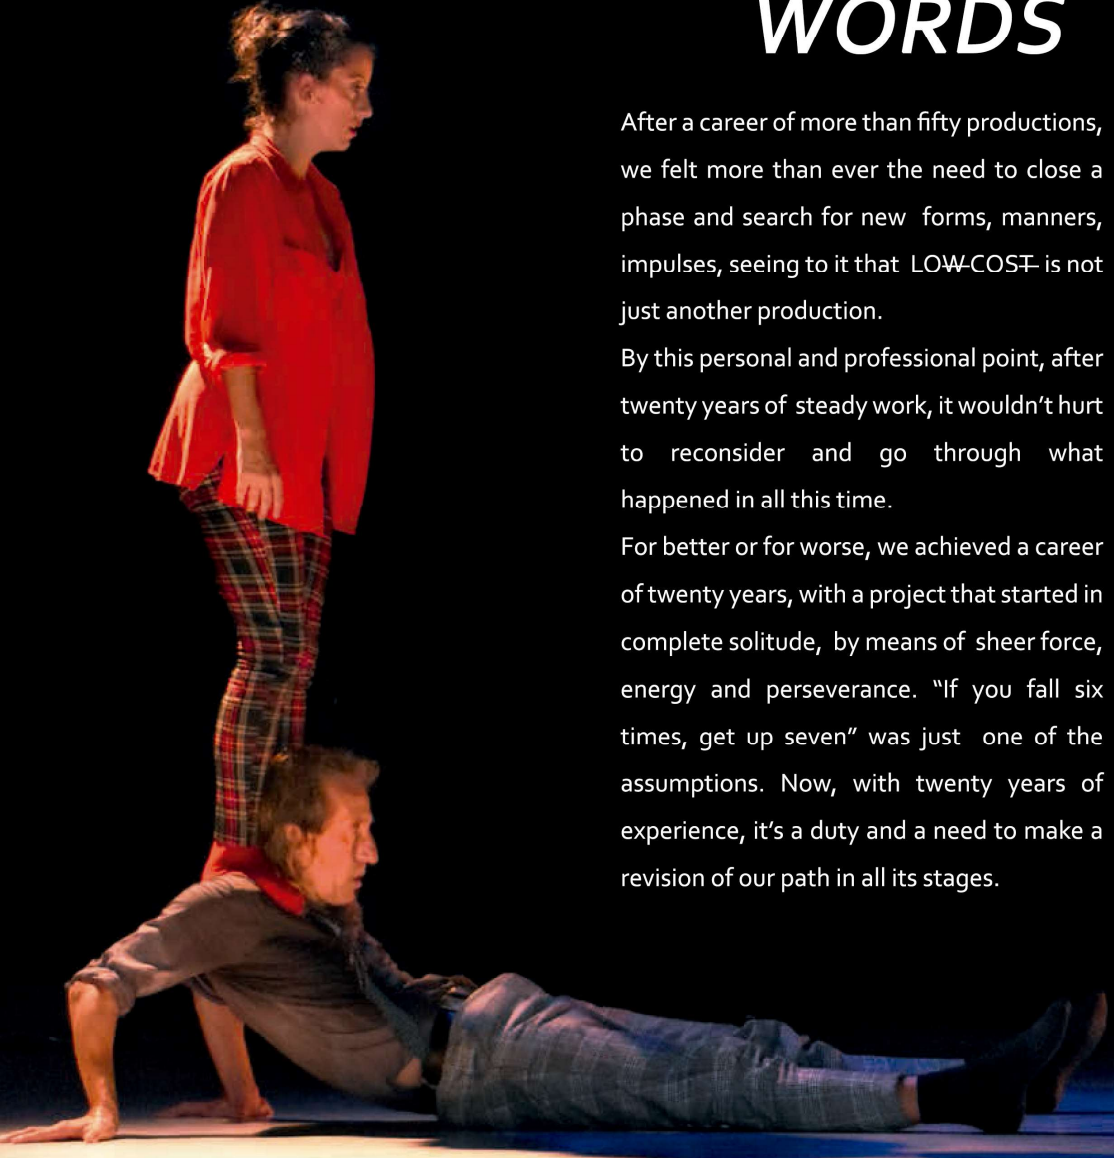

Because we want to take a tour of the different places of our career, and speak ironically of the means we had to create and sustain our project of a professional company over twenty years. And that is not a complaint, absolutely; it's a reflection about the time we lived.

Every time a big trademark turns years, it offers special discounts and an enviable promotional campaign. We therefore will not be outdone.

We stage three characters, three generations that represent present time, future and maybe past. Three generations that will bring up to date different events of what our Company has been throughout twenty years, and some side effects that occurred along the way.

A new performance, ultimately: quite an offer!

SYNOPSIS

What would you change if you could look back to your life?

What would happen, if we had the chance to modify our actions?

Every day we have somewhat the opportunity to change, so we are changing now, artistically.

We are not staging just one more production of Fernando Hurtado Dance Company, but a performance about....

body....twenty tears later....

ideals we preserve.....twenty years later....

the time past...twenty years later....

the future with a view to twenty more years.

And we definitely talk...

about present

about what awaits us

about the need for change

about you and us

about art, about dance...

Not just one more production, but...

Quite an offer!

Twenty years of performing!
